Possession of drugs is the same as being a drug addict and cannot be understood in any other way. The only solution is to send the offender to a rehab center. Smart drugs, like ecstasy, MDMA (ecstasy) or LSD, are a dangerous and immoral way to enhance your life. They are dangerous because the user can lose control of their inhibitions and in severe cases can lead to permanent damages to the brain. Most users have no idea of the dangers they're taking in and they place the risk on themselves, never realizing the extent of what they're doing. You may as well give someone a knife, let them taste the blood and then ask for their opinion. MDMA, or 'ecstasy', a psychotropic drug with amphetamine-like properties, increases brain metabolism, growth hormone and, if administered intravenously, testosterone levels. This response is responsible for the 'ecstasy' high, which can last for up to two and a half hours. MDMA works by attaching to its receptors in the brain, switching them on, while inhibiting the action of serotonin (the brain's natural calming hormone). This is the same mechanism that causes addiction and an overdose can be deadly. In the early 1990s, law enforcement reports of ecstasy abuse in America increased by a factor of 100 and were responsible for most of the drug-related fatalities in the country. MDMA has been available in pill form since the early 1960s but, since the mid-1990s, ecstasy, as a result of its popularity, has become the subject of an organized crime drive across North America. 'E' is now a major drug dealer's drug of choice and has the potential to make a lot of people rich. It's the difference between smoking a cigarette and smoking 30 cigarettes over the course of five minutes. The difference is the strain of cannabis in the cigarette causes only a tiny amount of THC to take effect (a high effect), while the 30 ecstasy cigarettes causes a massive amount. Only the latter 0cc13bf012

The first Talbots of Charleston store opened in 1989 and, well, nothing has changed. The family-owned specialty women's fashion retailer has locations in Charleston, West Columbia, North Charleston, Summerville and it's on its way to Columbia. "We've invested heavily into our digital platform and marketing," said Vivian Tullo, the daughter of the owners who is the third generation to take over the enterprise. "We're confident that our products will never go out of style." That's usually not the case with retailers, but the Talbots of Charleston have four guiding principles: quality, fashion, value and design. The store's inventory is meticulously selected, so there are no seasonal items or fads. Everything is "simple elegance," said Tullo. And everything is priced well,
