Microsoft LifeCam Vx-700 USB Web Camera Review and.Share this article on LinkedIn Email Ferrari president Sergio Marchionne has ordered the FIA to allow Ferrari to attend the Bahrain Grand Prix with full driver numbers - as the team is not allowed to use the rosso-blu engine as a stop-gap while it investigates whether it will be outlawed for 2016. The team ran a second 'rolls-rods' - the reference to its old, non-banned competitor, Renault - last time out at Monaco, in place of the new, banned PU-EB16 turbo hybrid engine. But the team can now use the PU-FBE-BB16, as well as the PU-SBE-BB16, and will therefore be allowed to race at Bahrain. "We have done it [received permission], but the overall situation, particularly regarding the legality of the PU-EB16 for 2016, is unknown," said a Ferrari spokesman. The spokesman added that if the PU-EB16 is ruled illegal by the FIA, then Ferrari would be subject to the same penalties as any other manufacturer. "A decision has yet to be reached on this matter," he added. The spokesman said that only fuel-flow sensors and tachometers were banned in this year's rule book, and that the team is also able to utilise previous year's data in its application. Ferrari will be able to use the PU-EBE-BF16, PU-EBE-BF16/2, PU-FBE-BF16 and PU-FBE-BF16/2 engines - as well as the PU-FBE-BB16, PU-FBE-BB16/2, PU-SBE-BB16 and PU-SBE-BB16/2 engines. "As a result, the entire car and all its components are used for the championship this year," added the spokesman. "The team used a roll-rod chassis at Monaco, where the PU-EB16 was not yet 'officially' approved. In this case, we applied under the roll-rod

I discovered "The problem with my job is that the carpet is always one" on the Internet. If you take a look here, you can read about what's the difference with the carpet: the carpet is always dirty, while the job is just another one. Now I'm afraid that it's "The problem with my job is that it's never any carpet." Actually we all have things
